IMPORTANT NOTE: If the name and/or address on your Change of Address form does not match the name in the receivership records of Reciprocal of America ("ROA") or The Reciprocal Group ("TRG"), you will need to provide documentation that you are the legal successor to the distribution rights of the person or company listed as a distributee in those records (if your name has changed), and/or documentation that the address listed in those records was formerly your address under your current name or a prior name (if your address has changed). Such documentation may include, for example:

- * A copy of a document you received from ROA or TRG bearing the name and address that were in its records;
- * An old bank statement bearing the name and address that were in ROA's or TRG's records:
- * An old utility bill or insurance bill bearing the name and address that were in ROA's or TRG's records; or
- * A government-issued document bearing the name and address that were in ROA's or TRG's records.
